

NATIONAL ALLOTMENT INSURANCE AGENCY OFFERS FULL SERVICE AND FULL SUPPORT

By Erin Lewenauer

The National Allotment Insurance Agency (491 Dekalb Ave., Suite 2, Brooklyn), run by Samuel L. Dunston and his son Pernon Dunston, has been serving the community of NYC since 1976. The father-son team is unique in that they focus on meeting the needs of each customer and specialize in organizing voluntary employee and union member benefits at a company rate that everyone can afford. The location of their office allows them to be in any of the five boroughs in twenty minutes to attend to customer needs.

The National Allotment Insurance Agency designs and implements plans for virtually any group from corporations to unions to non-profits. They offer life insurance, disability insurance, property and casualty insurance, fixed income management, broker services, employee benefits, future options services, equity management, and portfolio management, among other services. They are proud to be a full service, full support company.

"We specialize in products that meet the needs of everyone," says Dunston.

Their extensive services include communicating the details of selected plans to employees. To assist companies in the implementation of a new plan, they offer benefit booklets, posters, videos, pre-announcement flyers, and one-on-one counseling. Since educating the participants is the Dunston's number one priority, they provide enrollment workshops for prospective clients that explain the benefits clearly (in "plain" English) and offer bilingual workshops.

Sam Dunston has been a prominent member of the insurance and employee benefits business for over 50 years. He graduated from St. Augustine College in Raleigh, NC with a B.S. and worked there as an agent before founding his National Allotment Insurance Agency. He is a recognized leader in the minority-owned and operated business community in NYC. His client roster spans from the neighborhood nonprofit to large corporations.

Dunston is also known for his civic generosity, serving on the Board of the Brooklyn Chamber of Commerce, on the Board of Directors at the Brooklyn Hospital, and on the Board of the Greater New York Chapter of the 110-year-old National Business League, among numerous others.

"Pernon and I, we never had jobs anywhere else. Our passion has always been selling insurance," says Dunston. "My favorite part about the business is traveling and meeting new people. Pernon's favorite part is playing golf and going to events."

The Dunston's, at National Allotment Insurance, can be trusted to improve and enhance every aspect of a business. They possess professional expertise in almost every phase of financial services and offer many options for companies and employees. Their meticulous nature and appreciation of finance and
